AISTA trims India sugar output estimate to 28.3 mt on weather hit

India's sugar production for the 2025-26 season is now projected at 28.3 million tonnes. This revision comes after adverse weather conditions affected yields in key producing states like Maharashtra and Karnataka. Despite the downward revision, output is still expected to surpass the previous season's production. Ethanol diversion will account for a portion of the gross production.

West Asia crisis could raise energy risks for India but domestic flows, growth outlook remain resilient: Jefferies

West Asian tensions could hike global energy prices, impacting India's oil imports and inflation. Despite foreign investor pullbacks, strong domestic inflows from SIPs and NPS are stabilizing India's equity markets. The economy shows signs of acceleration with robust loan growth and improved corporate earnings, though AI poses a long-term challenge to the IT sector.

U.S. judge to meet parties on Trump-tariff refunds in closed-door settlement conference

Government lawyers have said the process for refunding President Donald Trump's signature tariffs was unprecedented in scope and would require manual review of tens of millions of tariff payments.

Indian Stock Market & IPOs

Markets still digesting West Asia shock; domestic sectors offer relative comfort, says Dharmesh Kant

Market experts advise caution despite a brief equity rebound, citing ongoing global uncertainties and geopolitical tensions. Analysts believe the market has not fully absorbed the impact of recent events, with potential for prolonged volatility and supply-driven inflation. Investors are advised to focus on domestic-oriented sectors like banking, infrastructure, and automobiles, while maintaining a long-term positive outlook on defence stocks.
